armor”

“ Until you have experienced working with unreliable computers, e-mail that doesn't function, and installations and conversions that fail, you can't fully appreciate the value of a company like Portola Systems. Their trained professionals have been our knights in shining armor, coming to our rescue to solve problems quickly and efficiently – and always with good humor. Our confidence that Michael Montgomery and his colleagues at Portola Systems can handle any problems that may arise and help us avoid difficulties is unsurpassed. It is comforting to know that when we need help, we can call on Portola Systems and know that they will be there for us.”
